NoSQL databases such as MongoDB continue to revolutionize the management and storage of valuable enterprise data. MongoDB is the leading NoSQL database helping more than one hundred thousand users quickly and easily code, scale and operate applications. The NoSQL database bridges the gap between RDBMS and key-value stores -- instead of storing data in tables and rows, MongoDB stores data in documents with dynamic schemas. Global companies relying on MongoDB for storage of their application data include Craigslist, Disney, eBay, Forbes, foursquare, Intuit, O2, Shutterfly, Telefonica and UK Government Digital Services.
